Walk and talk and what do you have?

An individual human being:
of what extent,
of what supreme benefit, of what purpose or prospect of beauty or humility of what driving, guiding sense of what power or potential?

Talking yes, walking yes, but where to and from whom?

Is there no distinction to the chattering, mind to a mind voices calling, crying, shouting out or grieving?

What is a human being?

What is a human and being?

How can one distinguish what evidence to the living is one being influenced by and in?

How can one be specific to identify, to clarify, to distinguish in terms of readily know what is what or who is who doing the talking in one's head, the mind, the brain or where-ever that voice pertains?

I am, you are human in frame by what evidence than the obvious shown from birth to ascertain?

Words as a form descriptive but not much in the various experiences from the mind to a mind objective.

*H*ow is it then,
in a real life Westernised world, a possible plan to know who inside us has us all guided and planned to death and go?

Some have relayed data stream upon stream in terms of a hypothesis about life and death the extremes but few have actually identified the soul source to a life.

What does do the walk and talk when it comes to our own individual life and style, characteristics, dynamics, tragic events and those of love and genuine connections we are to have?

What is the basis of a life to live if no clear understanding of the force surrounding or driving us, unseen but does?

What type of person are we historically to give a clue as to why now and us and in that shape, style and belief?

The answer clearly is a difficulty to be understood as to how and why and what is a determining influence or factor ...

*B*ut here we are on terra firma and no idea as to why we came in this form and time historically.

No ideas as to why - why this country, colour and or religious or none, why no understanding the numbers in our own family, the boys as girls gender wise, the type of environmental influences or historical events and attitudes of those times?

What plan, project, mission, call or cry to allow us to be following in those ways until we die?

*W*hat does direct our route to where in the end, journey's end?

*W*hat of the journey, the story, all these years of days and breaths, all those many, many happenings and or events?

*T*he love of a life is easily understood when one has a grip on life as learning to heal all past negatives.

But if no time, no space, no clear view ahead to know of what an extra-ordinaire life earth is and has in store then life is naught and naught is how we survive unless awakened to pursue, self as love as life as God as quantum and consciousness, the whole as pertains to life of all and in so much, the ground we walk and air to talk.

*B*ut also, more so, the value to be here and exist as the only one-off time to learn we are never, ever to be alone walking and talking is as is, not just of us but those in our mind accompanying us.

Love in us, with us, by and through us, together, united, bonded, sourced and created, expressive and formed and set, moulded, supported all in each and every being because as human we need to be unified to live on earth physical and psychological, physical and conscious, physical and psychologically informed, spiritually seeded by the breath of life to live earthly until in death breath dies but consciously we live as death only a physical frame extinct

But not the story of one who lived life, of one who knew earth and what experienced; of one who could tell of emotional feelings, experienced and yet totally unaware at times who was driving the body and mind.

Whatever the mechanistic view one has, life is a totally misinformed view, as much as the mind, in terms of astounding, well informed ideas, abilities and skills and news.

This is a creature beyond its years that is born earthly to survive instinctually as to what to do initially then learn habitually until awakened to dream of what this individual mind contains ...

life and source of life to be lived, life and a creative part to exist.

But most of all, life to learn love is the glue to who I am for in that exists time as old as all time prior and beyond for I am the outcome of what was and in that I now am.

Love creates, shapes and grows up to ourselves in how it develops once ownership and responsibility takes place ...

and then the source of all as consciousness is born to re-invent peace and love — not war, violence and hate.

Reflection on the Way ahead:

God is not some form of outer world reality or such as seems of old, but more so of a consciousness or quantum forming and expanding of a whole ...

a whole of every aspect of a life and beyond to what includes everything and everyone, species of those varietal types and we in human and being of which is more than just two but of one, the 'being' within you – God Consciousness.
